

ARMY'S TIMELY HITTING AGAIN BEATS STANFORD

Hudnall and Hundley Lead In Driving Hoever From Hill — Both Teams Play Fast and Snappy Baseball

(From Sunday Advertiser)

All-Army 6, Stanford 3

History repeated at Moiliili Field yesterday afternoon, the All-Army baseball aggregation again handing defeat on the visiting Stanford University team, this time by a score of 6 to 3. From the fans point of view it was by far the best game of the series, being filled with plenty of clean and timely hitting and fielding that bordered on the sensational time and again. Both pitchers, Hoever and Peed in the early stages of the game and Wickensham who relieved Hoever, working double-quick all the time, the result being the contest was on in one hour and twenty-five minutes.

Instant one was unproductive of runs, Maple going out on a snappy peg across the diamond from Hundnall, Dumshot taking a hit and Hundnall making a good catch of Wickensham's fly ball of third. Chatterly Lyman started for the Army with a clean hit to center and then stole second while Johnson fanned. Dumshot was out on a clever play of Stevens to Workman and Dossett flew out to Stanford.

Stanford broke into the run column in the second inning. Dent taking first on a single, stealing second while Landers fanned, to third on Dumshot's error and then home when Stevens singled after Downing had flied to rightfield.

The All-Army tied this up in their half of the third and went the victory one better. Lyman drove a liner to center and moved to second on Johnson's sacrifice. Dumshot atoned for his previous bobble with a liner to centerfield that netted him three bases, Lyman scoring. Dossett lifted the ball into leftfield and on the putout Dumshot forced home. Day made a beautiful peg to Dent and Dumshot should have been out but Dent dropped the ball and Dumshot got a run. Dent ended the inning by fanning.

Wickensham fanned in the sixth and hits by Hundley, Sauer and Peed gave the Army another run. In the eighth Hundnall's triple into far right field and a sacrifice fly by Hundley gave the All-Army their sixth and final run.

Verily it was the best game of the series and this much can be said of the Cardinals, they are hitting their stride now and will give the fans some classy baseball even if they do lose yesterday.

MAUI HORSEMAN EXPLAINS HANDICAP

Louis von Tempsky Denies Any Discrimination Against Owner of Welcome Boy

Louis von Tempsky, chairman of the executive committee of the Maui Racing Association, states that there has been a misunderstanding about the trotting-and-pacing free-for-all race to be held at Spreckels Park, July 4. He says that the race will not be a single heat affair, as was at first advertised, but that the conditions call for the best three heats in five.
The handicap condition, states the veteran Maui sportsman, was provided on account of no 2:15 class being entered for on the program this year, as has heretofore been the case. It was felt that there was not enough money on hand for both classes, and that it would be best to eliminate the slow class and let owners enter their horses in the free-for-all, the slow division receiving a time allowance from the fast horses, with the idea of making them contenders with some chance to win.

Von Tempsky further states that there has never been any intention of making Welcome Boy concede any time to Demervo, and that the handicap condition will insure the crowd seeing a horse-race, even should one of the two cracks meet with an accident during training.
"The same old honest inducement for local owners to bring their horses to the meeting is here as ever," says von Tempsky, "and that inducement is that every entrant will get the same fair play that he has always received, and that the winner will get the whole amount of the purse that has been offered, as has always been done."

Von Tempsky prophesies a successful meeting.
According to the program published in the Maui News and sent to local owners, the seventh race on the card is a quarter of a mile free-for-all, for which the handsome purse of $225 is hung up, $175 to go to the winner.
It is seldom that a two-furlong dash figures on a local program, and the size of the purse offered makes the present instance the more remarkable.

COLONEL NEVELLE GETS PEKING POST

Captain Clinton, U. S. M. C., Comes Here From Washington Barracks To Relieve Cutts

Latest advices from the mainland contain several important marine corps changes of interest to the garrison here. Lieut.-Col. Wendell C. Neville, who, two years ago, commanded the marine battalion here, and who added new laurels at Vera Cruz last year to his list of gallantry, has been relieved from command of the Second Regiment at Philadelphia and ordered to command the United States Legion guard at Peking, China, one of the choice shore details of that service.
Colonel Neville succeeds Lieut.-Col. Dios Williams, who October 1, went to Washington for duty.
Col. Theodore P. Kane, now attending the Army War College at Washington, has been designated to relieve Colonel Neville in command of the Second Regiment.

Captain Clinton Comes Here
Capt. Hiram Bearse, now senior captain of the Marine Corps on duty at Philadelphia, and Capt. Arthur T. Matz, commanding the marine detachment of the battleship Louisiana, have been designated to attend the army school of the line at Fort Leavenworth during the course commencing in September.

Maj. Charles S. Hill will take the next course at the Army War College. Capt. Alexander M. Watson, now on duty at the marine barracks, Norfolk, Virginia, will relieve Captain Thomas M. Clinton at the Washington barracks. Captain Clinton comes to relieve Capt. Richard Cutts, who is ordered to the Marine Island yard.

First Lieut. Harold L. Parsons has been detached temporarily from the Second Regiment at San Diego and ordered to duty as aide to the president of the Panama-California Exposition in that city.

Artillery Goes Into Camp
The artillery battalion of marines stationed at Annapolis, under the command of Maj. Robert H. Dunlap, will be sent for three months' training to the army field artillery camp at Tobyhanna, Pennsylvania, for a course of instruction and target practice. The battalion will not take its material with it, but will use the three-hundred pieces of the Third Field Artillery, which is the regular battalion on duty at the camp. Capt. Douglas McDougall, formerly on duty here, is the adjutant of the marine artillery battalion.

RUSSIAN-AMERICAN SOCIETY ORGANIZED
PETROGRAD, May 22.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—A Russian-American society has been organized in Petrograd to promote a greater mutual understanding between the two countries and to provide a convenient clearing house for the exchange of industrial, educational and social ideas. The organizing committee, headed by F. A. Ivanoff, a member of the Council of Empire, hopes to dissipate "the cloud of mystery and ignorance which has successfully surrounded the real Russia from the real America." By means of reports and lectures and by appointing traveling commissions it plans to disseminate through Russia and America more accurate information regarding the commercial and social activities of the two countries. The society has planned a grand tour, already enrolled in the principal cities in the United States, and to rely upon Americans in Russia to enlighten the society on the subject of American life.

One hundred members, including Baron R. R. Rosen, former ambassador to the United States, and R. E. Shingoroff, have already enrolled in the society, and it is expected that the membership will include many Americans in Russia. Branches of the society will be established in all the large cities of Russia.

ARMY CONTRACTS ARE HUNGARIAN SCANDAL

VENICE, May 25.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—During the debates in the Hungarian parliament the army contract scandals were given an extensive airing, although few new facts were developed. There was a unanimous demand from the speakers for a complete public exposure of the culprits. The chief criticism was directed at the graft in clothing, shoes and food meat. One of the meat contractors, who is alleged to have supplied half a million pounds of himself of more than $100,000, has just been imprisoned.

It was also developed that peasant farmers who sold horses and grain to contractors on army requisitions have in many cases either not been paid at all or paid only a small part of the contract price.
One speaker charged that the army contractors were endeavoring to impose silence on the press by giving out extensive advertising.

Cecil Brown has resigned and H. M. von Holt has been appointed in his place by Judge Whitney as trustee of James Gay, minor; Anita Meyer, minor; guardian of David L. William L. Edith and Mary Johnson, minors; administrator of the estate of Walter Chamberlain Testate, deceased, and executor of the estate of Mohole Monauli, deceased.

NATION URGED BY PRESS TO AWAKEN

Support Given President Implies Question of Our Ability To Defend Ourselves

With the exception of the European war there is no other subject which appears oftener on the editorial pages of the American newspapers these days than the discussion of the defenseless condition of America. Almost without exception the leading papers of the country are engaged in the seemingly thankless task of awakening the nation to a consciousness of the problem which has been ignored so long.

Quite the best that we have read in some time is one from the Evening Sun of New York entitled "A Citizen Army."

"Spirit Willing; Flesh Weak"
"It is inconceivable in view of the present crisis that some plan for a standing citizen army has not presented itself, however vaguely, to the mind of the administration. The very solidity of the President's backing in the matter of the German note carries with it an implied interrogation concerning his vital need. Certainly no thoughtful American, weighing the possibilities of the near future, can escape the feeling of helplessness which comes with this realization of unpreparedness. If the feeling does not amount to absolute helplessness, it must at least take the form of grave concern.

"Well, however, is the thought that the body is not equipped to follow where the spirit dares. The soul of America has gone, and is ever prepared to go, to great heights of human adventure. Now, then, is the realization that her physical embodiment may not have the practice of power to attain the standards of her will. War is a physical thing, and if we are not able in honor to avoid war, then let us—in God's name face truth and begin even at this late day a reconditioning of the body to the task that will be laid upon them, if not today, then certainly upon some inevitable tomorrow.

"The events of the past fortnight must prove even to the extreme pacifists that national strife is an ever-present possibility in the life of the most peace-loving State. Splendid Suicide
"Preparedness of spirit coupled with unpreparedness of body makes for splendid suicide and little else. The man who plunges into the racing tide to save a fellow soul does so from the noblest motives. But unless he be a strong swimmer he will not only fail of the very object of his heroism but also lose his own life. Perhaps he is a braver man than the life guard who patrols the shore, conscious of his powers. Nevertheless the shores of men waters will continue to be patrolled by practical guards and not by brave bunglers.

"There are thousands, perhaps millions, of citizens of this country, husbands and fathers, who according to the best conception of military necessity, would not be able to duty at the first call. Yet it is the right of these men to have that training which would make them valuable to their country, their homes and themselves when the moment of service arrives. No man may demand hostages of fate against his personal destruction. But it is his right to demand hostages of the rulers against dying wastefully.

Fault Is Nation's
"The fault of unpreparedness lies not primarily with any public official, it lies in the heart of the nation. Yet because our President and his ministers represent the people, they should take cognizance of this need. The fault is in ourselves, the remedy in our rulers."

"If peace is worth having, it is worth fighting to have; and if it is worth the fight, it is eminently worth the preparation for that fight."
